Both Bainbridge College (BC) locations celebrated Grand Opening Ribbon Cuttings of their Barnes & Noble Bookstores and featured three local authors for book signings on Main Campus and the Early County Site in Blakely.

BC English major Jamie Brannon of Donalsonville was on hand with his first book, Full-Blooded Poetry, which made the book of the week list in June at PublishAmerica.com. BC Assistant Professor Wynton Hall, who teaches communications, signed his first solo book, The Right Words: Great Republican Speeches that Shaped History. Barnes & Noble Bookstore Manager Natase J. Hopkins was there also to sign his book, Thanks to Her, I Rose.

BC students, personnel and members of the communities in the college's service areas attended the Aug. 28 events. BC Ambassadors, who are liaisons from the community, assisted at both locations. The official openings of the Barnes & Noble Bookstores at both locations included drawings for gifts of flower arrangements, Polo shirts and other items, and refreshments that included samples of Starbucks coffee. The bookstores are open to the public.
